What is energy RFP?

Energy RFP is a searchable, interactive database that catalogs hundreds of current and archived RFPs, RFIs, and RFQs issued by utilities, public power associations, public utilities commissions, regional energy-efficiency organizations, and municipal governments.

How much will energy storage cost in 2030?

With six use cases that identify energy storage applications, benefits, and functional requirements for 2030 and beyond, the ESGC has identified cost and performance targets, which include: $0.05/kWh levelized cost of storage for long-duration stationary applications, a 90% reduction from 2020 baseline costs by 2030.

What is the energy storage roadmap?

The Roadmap includes an aggressive but achievable goal: to develop and domestically manufacture energy storage technologies that can meet all U.S. market demands by 2030.

What are some emerging applications for stationary storage?

Other emerging applications for stationary storage include serving remote communities, increasing facility flexibility, increasing the resilience of interdependent networks, and facilitating the transformation of the power system.

What is a storage Innovation Roadmap?

The Roadmap outlines a Department-wide strategy to accelerate innovation across a range of storage technologies based on three concepts: Innovate Here, Make Here, Deploy Everywhere.
