

Flat earth solar system meme

The planet is also traveling in a direction perpendicular to the star's gravitational tug; if it were possible to switch off that gravity, the Earth would shoot away in a straight line and hightail it out of the solar system. Instead, the linear momentum and the sun's gravity combine, resulting in a circular orbit around the sun.

Any experimental outcome that renders their flat earth hypotheses impossible, is immediately rejected without a single thought by the FE community. Great example of this: Bob Knodel, a flat earther, using a ring laser gyroscope, repeatedly measuring the exact rotation of the earth (15 degrees per hour), and rejecting the outcome.
